Purchase, Refi Apps Both up Ahead of Holiday Season

There was, as expected only a minimal immediate impact on either mortgage rates or mortgage application volume in the few days following the Federal Open Market Committee's (FOMC's) long anticipated action hiking the fed fund rate. Rates were up slightly for fixed rate products but applications for both purchases and refinanced increased from the previous week.

The Mortgage Bankers Association's (MBA's) Market Composite Index, a measure of application volume, rose 7.3 percent on a seasonally adjusted basis during the week ended December 18 compared to the volume during the week ended December 11. On an unadjusted basis the index rose 7.0 percent.

There were gains for both refinancing and purchase applications with the former rising 11 percent and the latter up 4 percent from the previous week on a seasonally adjusted basis. The Purchase Index was 2 percent higher on an unadjusted basis week-over-week and 37 percent higher than during the same week in 2014.

Refinance Index vs 30 Yr Fixed

Purchase Index vs 30 Yr Fixed

The refinance share of mortgage activity increased to 62.8 percent of total applications from 60.7 percent the previous week. FHA took a 12.9 percent cut of applications, down from 14.0 percent the week before and VA applications dipped to 10.5 percent from 11.2 percent. The USDA share was 0.6 percent, unchanged from the previous week

Along with the uptick in contract rates for fixed-rate mortgages (FRM) the effective rate increased for all products tracked by MBA's weekly survey. The average contract interest rate for 30-year FRM with conforming loan balances ($417,000 or less) increased to 4.16 percent from 4.14 percent, with points increasing to 0.47 from 0.45

Jumbo 30-year FRM (loan balances greater than $417,000) had an average rate of 4.04 percent compared to 4.01 percent the prior week. Points dipped 0.28 from 0.30.
