Purchase Applications at 7-Month High

Applications for purchase mortgages increased during the week ended January 20, pushing the Mortgage Bankers Association's (MBA's) Market Composite Index higher despite increasing interest rates. MBA said its index, a measure of application volume, increased 4.0 percent on a seasonally adjusted basis compared to a week earlier. On an unadjusted basis, the index was down by 5 percent. The index included an adjustment to account for the Martin Luther King Day holiday.

The Purchase Index increased 6 percent on a seasonally adjusted basis compared to the week ended January 13. That change brought the index to its highest level since last June. Unadjusted, the Purchase Index gained 2 percent week-over-week and was 0.1 percent higher than the same week in 2016. The average loan size for purchase applications increased to $309,200, the highest level since December 16th, 2016.

The Refinance Index eked out a 0.2 percent increase and the refinance share of applications fell to 50 percent of total mortgage activity from 53.0 percent the week before. It was the lowest share for refinancing since June 2015.
